Re: Dependent Eligibility Verification Audit - Termination of Benefits

Dear Mr. Valenti:

As you are aware, the MTA initiated a Dependent Eligibility Verification Audit conducted by Ernst & Young which started on July 6, 2026, and concluded on August 21, 2026. In addition, an appeals period, which was available from August 31, 2026 through September 26, 2026 has also concluded.

During the audit, Labor Relations sent the Union a list of active employees and retirees whose letter communication was returned as undeliverable due to a lack of sufficient address, as well as status updates of employees and retirees who had not submitted the required documentation. The MTA would like to thank you and your team for assisting in contacting the aforementioned active employees and retirees.

Please be advised now that the audit and appeals periods have ended, we are writing to formally advise that the official termination date for dependents who have been voluntarily removed from coverage and dependents for whom the required documentation was not submitted to verify his/her eligibility for coverage will be December 1, 2026. However, between today and December 1, 2026 active employees and retirees who have still not submitted the required documentation can send such documentation to the Business Service Center via email at bscservice@mtabsc.org with the letters "DEVA" clearly written at the top of each page submitted.

The MTA appreciates the continued cooperation and assistance of the Transit Supervisors Organization, TWU Local 106 in communicating this information to your membership. We ask that you encourage any members who still have not submitted required dependent documentation to address those requirements as soon as possible to avoid termination of eligible dependent coverage.

Please contact us if you have any questions. Thank you for your anticipated cooperation.

Sincerely,
